China

My name is Xiong Tianyi, 39 years old. I am the father of a two years old daughter. I graduated from Dresden University of Technology. Now I work in International Photography Association in China, and responsible for foreign affairs and photography exhibitions.

I am very interested in macro photography and street photography. I have participated in many international photography competitions and won many gold, silver and bronze awards.

At the same time, I participated as a judge in the international photography competitions. It was a very interesting experience because I could see the wonderful photos of the world's top photographers, which helped me a lot.

I am a very lucky person, my hobby and work are perfectly combined together.
