Based on the Wild Atlantic Way in the northwest of Ireland, I have over a decade of experience in photography. My journey began long before I formalized my skills through structured training. In 2020 I embarked on a comprehensive learning path, completing an MSLETB Level 5 course, followed by an MSLETB Level 6 course in 2021. This solid foundation has significantly enhanced my technical abilities and artistic vision.

Since 2020, I have actively participated in international photographic competitions, earning numerous acceptances and several awards. These accolades reflect my commitment to excellence and my ability to capture compelling images that resonate with diverse audiences.

In addition to my personal projects, I have also developed a portfolio of images for stock photography sites, focusing on my unique niche. This experience has broadened my exposure and allowed my work to reach a global audience.

My passion for photography with continuous learning, competition participation, and diverse portfolio. I strive to capture moments that tell a story, evoke emotions, and inspire viewers. Whether through portraits, street scenes, landscapes, or still life compositions, my goal is to create visually stunning and impactful images.
